

To Whom It May Concern,

I am very thankful for the Do Not Call Registry. I am also very thankful for the strict laws favoring that law in NJ. With sick and elderly relatives, and family serving in Iraq, I jump at the phone when it rings. When I do so only to find some telemarketer on the other line, I feel violated. I feel that my privacy has been violated, and harassed. I often feel someone has intruded on my home and my family.

I strongly urge you to support the Do Not Call Registry. In doing so, you will be supporting the "Family Values" that the Bush administration so often speaks about. Receiving a phone call during my family's dinner is a burden on my family's values.

Thank you for listening,
Tom Santone
